

Celebrate your child's efforts with an achievement jar

Acknowledging your child's efforts has all kinds of benefits that directly impact their academic success and perseverance. You can applaud all your child's wins by creating your own achievement jar.

Instructions:

1. Cut out the label and stick it on a jar of your choice.
2. Cut out the accomplishments.
3. Place each accomplishment in the jar.
4. Once a week, take stock of your child's accomplishments.

Psst! You can use the spaces provided to write personalized achievements.

Cut the label:

Celebrate your child's efforts with an achievement jar

Wow! You did so well on your test!

You learned something new!

High-five, you graduated!

You passed your grade!

Be proud, you did your best!

Hooray! You studied hard!

Great job! You stuck to your routine!

Fantastic! You have all your homework materials!

Congrats! You finished a whole chapter!

You knew to ask for help!

You found a new strategy to make studying easier!

Celebrate your child's efforts with an achievement jar

You packed your school bag for the next day!

Amazing! You overcame your shyness!

You overcame a big challenge!

You really persevered!

Amazing! You made the right choice!

Terrific! You're making progress!

You didn't give up!

Your work is top-notch!

Awesome! You studied so hard!

You went to bed without a fuss!

Hats off to you! You're so organized!

Celebrate your child's efforts with an achievement jar

You used Alloprof to find the answers to your questions!

You went to bed without a fuss!

Impressive! You were able to use a setback to move forward!

