

How to ask for help

Asking your parent or teacher for help can be challenging.
There are a few phrases you can use when you're feeling tongue-tied.

Is this a good time to ask for help?

I'm having trouble with _____. Can we talk about it?

I'm trying my best, but I still don't understand _____.
Can you help me?

I don't understand what I have to do.
Could you explain it to me?

Is there any advice you could give me about _____?

I understand _____, but I'm not sure about _____.
Could you explain it to me?

I've tried _____ and _____, but I'm stuck.
Can you help me out?

I'm really lost. Can I take a short break before trying again?

Here's my plan. What do you think?
Do you have any suggestions?

Remember—it's always important to say
“please” and “thank you”!
