

A poem for parents

Do you want to surprise a parent or another special grown up with sweet words to brighten their day? Why not write a poem full of them?

Here's a poem you can personalize! Fill in the blanks with your own words, then add your own creative title.

You can decide whether your poem rhymes or not.

Title: _____

I want to tell you today,
how much I love you and _____.

You're always there for me,
and it makes me _____ every _____.

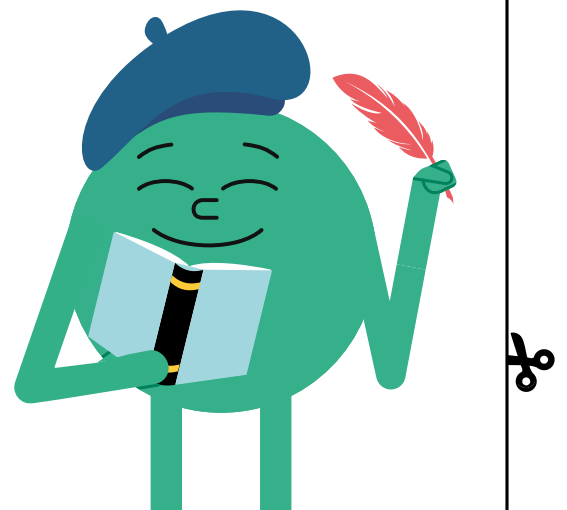

Thank you for your heartfelt love,
you are my sunshine, my _____.

I'm proud to have you as my _____,
and I love you to the moon and back.

I love you more than anything.
And I wanted to tell you that _____.

With you, life is full of joy.
I feel _____ when you're around.

With all my love,

A poem for parents

Example of a finished poem:

[Write your own title, or use this one: "To my dear mom/dad"]

I want to tell you today,
how much I love you and appreciate you.

You're always there for me,
and it makes me smile every day.

Thank you for your heartfelt love,
you are my sunshine, my light.

I'm proud to have you as my mom/dad,
and I love you to the moon and back.

I love you more than anything.
And I wanted to tell you that right now.

With you, life is full of joy.
I feel happy when you're around.

With all my love,
